

BURRIS MAY GET FIRST MONEY.

Lost Through Team Work of Samuelson and Turville.

LEYLAND'S FINE RIDING.

Twenty-Four Hour Race Was a Frost—Riders Did Not Make Enough To Pay Expenses.

The 24-hour race which came to an end last night at 9 o'clock, was a frost in every sense of the word. It was a failure from a financial standpoint and a failure as a race. And, according to some of the officials and spectators, Jack Burris was cheated out of first place through unprofessional and unfair work on the part of Turville and Samuelson. Burris filed a protest with Referee Sharp and that gentleman has taken the matter under advisement and will, in all probability give the race to Burris.

As the worn out riders crept slowly over the tape last night, there was not a sound of applause to greet them. Their eyes were bloodshot, their arms and legs weary and sore and it was with difficulty that they got to their dressing rooms. The riders hoped to make money out of the race, but disappointment could be seen on their faces as they dismounted from their wheels and gazed at the tiers of empty seats.

The riders who did not start in the long grind showed their good sense. One of them said he had reason to believe the affair would prove a rank failure, and such it did. Of the six who started, only four finished. Palmer quit after his first lap. He had a fall and turned his side. It was enough for him and he decided to pull out. About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Emory decided that he had had enough. Early in the race he had a fall and bruised his head. When he quit, he was miles behind and had no earthly chance to catch up. Those who finished were Samuelson, Burris, Turville and Leyland. Of these riders none made a more graceful amateur rider than Samuelson. Although he lost many miles he was game to the last, and when some of the other riders ridiculed him, he replied: "That's all right, I am the only one who has any nerve left. It is the first race of the kind I have ever entered, and to take a chance against men who have had experience in such events, shows that he is made of the right material. His ride, considering all, was a splendid one and he deserves great credit for it."

Up to 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Burris was in the lead, and every person at the track picked him as the leader. Time and time again both Turville and Samuelson tried to shake Burris but were unable to. Finally the riders agreed to leave their wheels for a few moments rest, but Burris would not enter into the compact. The others dismounted, and Burris gained one more lap. He already had a big lead over Turville. When the riders resmounted Turville and Samuelson began their team work that shut Burris out of first place. First one and then the other would sprint for a couple of miles and naturally Burris would go after the man who was sprinting. In this manner Turville and Samuelson gradually wore Burris out. They took turns in deliberately running him up the back. He saw that it was useless and might as well quit. He was first in protesting against team work, which is against the rules. Samuelson then rode against the bunch and gained a lap lead.

At the close of the race, Burris protested to Sharp and the latter said he would probe the matter to the bottom, and he practically said that he would let Burris first, Samuelson second, Turville third and Leyland fourth. The second man will receive about $200, while third and fourth will get about $100 and $50. Following is the order in which they finished the race:

Miles, Laps.
Samuelson ... 361 7
Turville ... 353 4
Leyland ... 351 1
Emory ... 322 1
Palmer ... 23 1

Following are the rules which it is claimed Turville and Samuelson violated:

Bob Fitzsimmons will sail with his theatrical company from San Francisco tomorrow, from which point he will make a ten weeks' tour of the West, going as far east as Butte. While on the briny deep he will release the performers who are new to the play, which broke all records at the Central theater in San Francisco today. A drawing partner Bob will take home, being Sam Berger of Olympic club fame, who will receive some valuable prizes in being.

STRING OF TROUT CAUGHT IN IDAHO BY SALT LAKE ANGLERS.

Five nimble nimrods and Izak Walton are home from a week's ramification along the north fork of the Snake river, and their friends are ready to believe that for fishing, the quintet will take the cake, frosting and all. The party was composed of Doc Ellerbeck, George Savage, John Ellerbeck, Rodney Badger and J. E. Clark, and judging from the photographs taken by Mr. Savage of the outfit and their many trophies, considerable execution was done. One picture shows a string of nearly 100 trout caught by the five in less than a day, and which makes a fine exhibition in the photo. Mr. Savage did considerable photographing, and the pictures show a wonderfully romantic and attractive country up there. One view of the five sitting at meat, with Rodney Badger saying grace, is very touching.

Fitzsimmons' Former Assistant Is Knocked Out in 14th Round.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 12.—Big Fred Russell knocked out Hank Griffin, late of Bob Fitzsimmons' camp, in the fourteenth round tonight. The fight was a good one and kept the crowd of 4,000 persons interested from start to finish. Russell was the aggressor from beginning to end and Hank failed to display any of the new tricks he claimed to have imbibed in Fitzsimmons' company.

Champions Meet Tomorrow.
New York, Sept. 12.—Athletic champions from Canada and the eastern, western and southern states will meet in competition tomorrow at Travers island, the country home of the New York athletic club, in the games open to all registered athletes for the highest honors of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States.

In the field events Flanagan, De Witt, Sheldon, Gray, Mitchell, Sheridan and others are entered and the weight contest probably will be extremely keen.
